Thursday May 22

WRMC-FM leaves the air for the summer vacation.

PROGRAM NOTES

In order to relieve its announcers before Final Examinations,WRMC-FM has decided to sign off each night at 3 AM. The broadcast day will begin each morning at 7 A.M., so you can still listen to us over your coffee and doughnuts each morning.

*

Next year's program schedules are already being devised (by devious means which only our Personnel Department understands) , so look for a new EMphasis shortly after school begins next fall.

READING PERIOD PROGRAMMING

Twice a year, WRMC-FM receives a whole slew of queries and complaints about our policy of signing off during reading period and exams-- so this year we decided to do something about it.

While programming during exams would be impractical(where would we be if our Loyal Staff flunked out en masse next term?) , we decided to broadcast during Reading Period, when there are no classes or exams to get in the way.

The broadcast day will run from ten A.M. until midnight, with pure music: our announcers have been instructed not to announce during thisweek. We will play continuous music, mostly whole sides of an album, so if you want to study or relax(that's what we'll be doing!) do it to the continuous sounds of WRMC-FM.

The programming will be divided between Classical and Rock--but not too hard a brand of rock, so that you car concentrate on whatever you're studying.

From ten A.M. until four, WRMC-FM will present continuous classical. Then at four, during the dinner and lounging hours, we will switch to rock. The modern sounds will prevail until ten P.M. when we swich back to classical.
